THE ACCOUNTANCY POD

Accountants? Yes. Just different.

You tell us what success looks like to you, and we'll show you how to make it happen. For smaller companies, we will help you develop a solid foundation on which to build a prosperous future. For larger clients we specialise in strategy and business planning.

Of course, we handle the basics too – we wouldn't be accountants if we didn't!

I'm sometimes asked why there are so many ads in the magazine. The simple answer is, because our aim is to help local businesses find people like you who need local goods and services. Each ad represents a local person, organisation or business service. The Aire Valley Mag is a trusted source for linking buyers and sellers or service providers. This month there are over 70 businesses, organisations and services included in our pages. For example, you will find information about educational courses and events at Keighley College & Shipley College, a soft furnishing Open Workshop with Pauline Keenoy and 'What's on' at Glusburn Community & Arts Centre, as well as Bolton Abbey. Visit Bradford have put together suggestions for ways to enjoy the best Bradford has to offer. Other contributors include the social prescribing service, Treacle.me, a really helpful resource for health and wellness based locally.

On behalf of all of our advertisers, thank you for supporting local life!

Liz Barker, Editor

Free Courses in Rail Engineering NVQ in Railway Engineering Track Maintenance

About the course:

Shibley College is working with Platinum Rail to deliver a Sector Based Work Academy. This 6-week course is 70% practical and will take place in your local area.

Every day over four million journeys are made across the 20,000 miles of track in England, Scotland, and Wales. Britain has Europe’s fastest-growing railway and needs trained, hard-working individuals who are prepared to work round-the-clock to keep the system moving safely, reliably, and efficiently.

You will be invited to an information and guidance day to find out more.

Length of course & time commitment per week:

This course runs for 6 weeks from Monday to Friday (with an option to complete a further 2 weeks PTS/TIC). Please enquire for future dates.

What you will do:

In the first six weeks, you will complete the following:

- Level 2 Certificate in Rail Engineering Underpinning Knowledge
- Level 2 NVQ Diploma in Rail Engineering Track Maintenance
- NCFE Level 1 Employability Certificate

After the 6 weeks if you have successfully passed the course, you have the option to complete the PTS/TIC course which covers:

- Personal Track Safety
- Manual Handling
- Safety Awareness
- Fire & First Aid Awareness
- Track Induction Course (TIC)

No costs included:

This is a free course for anyone who is 19+, in receipt of benefits and actively seeking employment. The College will fund all required PPE needed for the course.

How to Apply:

Treacle®

One of the main things I have learnt from listening to attendees of the It's Worth Talking About peer support groups is that we must try to be kind to ourselves during the grieving process. Grief is a unique, individual and unpredictable process. Whilst peer support and talking enables us to learn from others experiences, we must not compare our feelings and emotions to others. Person by person grief is different based on the context of its importance, and whilst being kind to ourselves is essential, it is not a prescription that will cure you. It is more of a mechanism to get you through what is often a lifelong process.

Ryan Anderton from Keighley founded It's Worth Talking About support groups.

Many of people I've met struggled with being compassionate to themselves, often beating themselves up emotionally, mentally and sometimes physically because they've tried to 'be strong', hiding any emotion, refusing help, trying to 'move on' and not allowing sufficient time to adequately heal. Being able to accept the variety of emotions, ask for help and give yourself time are important parts of the self-care grieving process and yet so many people hold the typically British 'firm upper lip' and 'carry on regardless'. Being kind to yourself, just doing what you can day by day is enough, you don't need to rush it and you don't need to forget the bereaved just because they are no longer here. Embrace them like they are if you need to, speak about them, even to them and remember the good and bad times. Most importantly do not be apologetic about how you deal with how a loss affects you because in the end it's yours and nobody else's.

Please do not suffer alone. Along with information on Its Worth Talking About, there are 14 different support services linked to bereavement on treacle.me, the local social prescribing resource created by Advanced Nurse Practitioner, Helen O'Connell. Simply look under the bereavement arrow in the yellow section of the support wheel on the website. Treacle covers situations ranging from specific support for bereaved parents or children, to support for families after suicide or for people who are widowed at an early age. If you need help, then be kind to yourself and try Treacle today.

Sparkling Bradford Winter

It's a wonderful time of year to go exploring in Bradford and district. Take full advantage of these autumn winter activities and create some great seasonal memories.

Explore Bradford district parks and woodlands while taking in nature and the seasons. Judy Woods and St. Ives Estate in Bingley are two beautiful places to visit, with the crisp leaves underfoot and the trees at their vibrant coloured best. Experience some lovely weekends at NT East Riddlesden Hall, where the welcoming gardens and intimate house provide a haven at this busy time of year.

If you're looking for a dazzling season of live entertainment visit Bradford Theatres. Brilliant new musicals, top comedy and superb drama and of course the legendary Pantomime are among the highlights of the season. This year sees Billy Pearce joined by Dr Ranj in Sleeping Beauty, a theatre experience not to be missed! Christmas lights will illuminate our high streets from November, adding a little sparkle to your shopping days. Bradford's Christmas lights will be switched on with a flourish on Saturday 13th November. Twinkling lights, beautifully decorated festive shop windows and four weekends of festivities will take place around Haworth, beginning on 27th November with the magical Light Up Haworth weekend. With the festive season just around the corner events are returning, look out for the magical Saltaire Living Advent Calendar, lighting up windows across the village from 1st December, and a new interactive virtual trail in Ilkley, perfect for keeping the kids entertained as you explore the stylish shops and inviting eateries. As autumn turns to winter and you crave comfort foods, you'll find delicious and seasonal fare in the district's exciting restaurants and cafés. Whether it's a pumpkin-spice latte, a hearty stew, or a warm slice of gingerbread, there's something to please everyone. To create your home-made favourites, pick up fresh seasonal vegetables at the Farmers Markets in Bingley and Baildon, as well as at Real Food Ilkley, and prepare some tasty delights like a warm soup or a scrumptious cake.

Stay cosy and relax for a few hours on the comfortable settees of the independent Ilkley Cinema and watch a great film. Go to the National Science and Media Museum's IMAX or the Pictureville Cinema, the only remaining UK facility that can show 3-strip Cinerama, for a completely immersive movie experience.

Get creative at a variety of fun arts and craft workshops for beginners and confident makers. Visit Bingley's Craft House for weaving and stitching inspiration, Saltaire's People Powered Press for large-scale letterpress works, Salt Pots and Cobbles and Clay for friendly family focused pottery painting sessions, or Mrs Duttons Wondrous Workshops in the heart of Ilkley to learn a new skill or polish an existing one.

For more great seasonal ideas, go to www.sparklingbradford.info

BEHIND THE SCENES AT THE MUSEUM

Mondays and Tuesdays, when we close to the public, are often just as busy as the rest of the week. We use these days to conduct private tours - exploring the Parsonage in the company of our Principal Curator is a very special treat for Brontë fans - but in recent months we have also welcomed a significant number of production crews making a wide range of content for film and tv. We are looking forward to The Return of the Railway Children and a new film about the life of Emily Brontë in the spring, but you can also look out for the Parsonage and some of its cast in programmes including The Brontës' Yorkshire with Mariella Frostrup, Escape to the Country and Our Great

Yorkshire Life with Christa Ackroyd. The Brontës have long been a source of inspiration for the screen. Following the success of Wuthering Heights with Laurence Olivier and Merle Oberon in 1939, and Jane Eyre with Orson Welles and Joan Fontaine in 1943, studios decided to turn the cameras around and focus on the lives of the Brontës themselves. The result was Devotion, released in 1946. It is a romantic, sweeping bodice-ripper of a movie, in which Haworth is a village of half-timbered and thatched cottages, the Brontë girls wander on the moors in their nightgowns, Emily's fierce bull mastiff Keeper becomes an Old English sheepdog, and a love triangle is invented between Charlotte, Arthur Bell Nicholls, and Emily. Truth, fact and biography did not have starring roles!

Seventy years later, in 2016, Sally Wainwright made her own Brontë biopic, To Walk Invisible. It was as down-to-earth gritty Yorkshire as Devotion was Hollywood glamour. Many readers of this magazine will remember how Haworth

Main Street was 'dressed' with muck, slurry and snow, and the recreation of the Parsonage on Penistone Hill which, that spring, attracted almost as many visitors as the Museum! Parsonage staff were invited to the first cast read-through at Manchester's Granada Studios and were also offered a cameo appearance in the final scenes, something which was exciting to see for the first time at the Bafta press preview.

We were reminded of that busy and exciting time just last week, when actor Luke Newberry, who starred in To Walk Invisible as Charlotte's publisher George Smith, visited the Museum. He signed our VIV (Very Important Visitors) book, adding his name to a list which includes Gemma Arterton, Colin Firth, Vanessa Redgrave and Joanna Lumley.

'Have a Go Fortnight'

FREE taster sessions at Keighley College

Go Fortnight gives them the opportunity to discover a talent, pursue their passion and meet new people by participating in a range of hands-on activities which reflects our diverse range of subjects.

"Adults have been amongst some of the hardest hit by the pandemic, but our large support network is on hand to offer advice, guidance and a wealth of learning opportunities. We want to create a central hub where adults can boost wellbeing, learn something new and improve their employability through our strong links with employers."

Keighley College has arranged a fortnight of free taster sessions for adults in the area as part of the Festival of Learning.

The 'Have a Go Fortnight' will be running from 1 to 12 November, and hopes to encourage adults within the community to engage with learning and discover the college's varied curriculum areas.

A national initiative, the Festival of Learning is the Learning and Work Institute's flagship campaign in England which celebrates the benefits of lifelong learning.

Throughout this year, Keighley College has worked in partnership with local organisations and education providers, including Bradford Council, to champion the festival by supporting adults in the region to re-engage with education following the challenges of the pandemic.

Jo Rusden, Programme Manager at Keighley College, said: "As a college that sits in the heart of the community, we're dedicated to working with local adults to provide fantastic learning opportunities. Our Have a

The 'Have a Go' sessions include fitness testing, removing a radiator, checking a wheel and changing tire pressure, first aid, joinery, hair and makeup and discovering your personality type.

Adults can book the sessions by visiting www.eventbrite.co.uk/e/keighley-college-festival-of-learning-taster-sessions-november-2021-tickets-193404236277. Find out more about the Festival of Learning by visiting keighleycollege.ac.uk/festival-of-learning

Winter Negroni: La Dolce Vita!

INGREDIENTS

- 195g caster sugar
- 1 orange, cut into 5mm slices, plus juice of 2 oranges
- 1 tbs juniper berries (optional)
- Ice cubes, to serve
- 250ml Gin
- 250ml Red vermouth
- 250ml Campari

METHOD

1. Place 110g sugar in a shallow bowl. Dip both sides of orange slices in sugar. Grease a large non-stick frypan and place over medium heat. Add orange slices and cook, turning once, for 2-3 minutes each side or until dark and caramelised. Transfer to a tray lined with baking paper and cool completely.
2. Place juniper, orange juice and remaining 85g caster sugar in a small saucepan over medium-low heat and stir to dissolve sugar. Bring to a simmer and cook for 5 minutes or until thickened.
3. Fill serving glasses with ice cubes. Combine gin, vermouth and Campari in a large jug. Divide among glasses, top with warm syrup and caramelised orange, and serve immediately.

Mac ~n~ Cheese please!

(The ultimate comfort food)

Ingredients

100g/3½oz butter, plus extra for greasing
100g/3½oz plain flour
1 tsp Dijon mustard
1.2 litres/2 pints full-fat milk
75ml/2½fl oz double cream
1 bay leaf
400g/14oz mature cheddar, grated
pinch freshly grated nutmeg
500g/1lb 2oz dried macaroni
100g/3½oz chopped smoked bacon or smoked pancetta cubes
60g/2¼oz white breadcrumbs
50g/1¾oz Parmesan, grated
salt and freshly ground black pepper

Method

Preheat the oven to 200C/180C Fan/Gas 6 and grease a 35x20cm/14x8in ovenproof dish..

Melt the butter in a large saucepan over a low heat. Stir in the plain flour and cook for 1 minute. Add the mustard, take the pan off the heat and gradually whisk in the milk and cream. Add the bay leaf.

Put the pan back over the heat, stirring constantly, until it boils and thickens. Take the pan off the heat again, remove the bay leaf and add the cheddar. Stir until the cheese has melted. Season with lots of black pepper and some nutmeg.

Bring a large pan of salted water to the boil and stir in the macaroni. Cook for 10 minutes, or until al dente, drain well and add to the sauce.

Fry the bacon in a frying pan until crisp. Stir into the macaroni cheese and pour the mixture into the ovenproof dish.

Mix the breadcrumbs with the Parmesan and scatter over the top. Bake for 25–30 minutes, or until golden-brown and bubbling. Serve immediately.

LOFT LADDERS

Yorkshire Loft Ladders, Quality You Can Trust

These days most homeowners suffer from a lack of storage space. So many precious items that need to be kept - but where to store it all? That's where Yorkshire Loft Ladders come in. The company, based locally, offers homeowners the opportunity to maximise their storage space with a loft ladder, 50 sq ft of boarding and a light all fully fitted in less than a day from just £277 + VAT. But it's not just the affordability of the package the company offers that makes Yorkshire Loft Ladders stand out as manager Mark Hodson explains: 'Our watchwords are Quality, Integrity and Value. Quality in the materials that we use for all our installations and the fact that all our loft packages are fitted by time served tradesman so our customers are assured of the best job. Integrity in that we will turn up at the time we say and make sure the house is spotless when we leave, and Value in that we offer our services at a price people can afford. Our business relies on referrals and we get a huge amount of our calls from people who have been referred to us by our existing customers - that simply wouldn't happen if we didn't adhere to our overriding principles.

At the end of the day the old adage that happy customers lead to more happy customers is true and we work hard to make that happen for every installation we carry out!

So, if you want to make use of your loft space, however big or small, call Warren on 0800 612 8359 and he'll be happy to pop round and give you a no obligation quote so you too can make use of your loft.
