I'm sometimes asked why there are so many ads in the magazine. The simple answer is, because our aim is to help local businesses find people like you who need local goods and services. Each ad represents a local person, organisation or business service. The Worth Valley Mag is a trusted source for linking buyers and sellers or service providers. This month there are over 70 businesses, organisations and services included in our pages. For example, you will find information about educational courses and events at Keighley College & Shipley College, a soft furnishing Open Workshop with Pauline Keenoy, and as things continue to open up, our community listings will grow too. Visit Bradford have put together suggestions for ways to enjoy the best the District has to offer. Other contributors include the social prescribing service, Treacle.me, a really helpful resource for health and wellness based locally.

INDUSTRY BARISTA
COFFEE - REAL ALE - RECORDS

"Fab coffee, friendly atmosphere and retro games to play."

The Industry Barista at Mill Hey was initially birthed from the creative stable of Joseph Slack, A.K.A. Industry Barber, along with sister, Rebecca Slack, and it has steadily grown into a popular local lifestyle lounge.

Keeping it in the family, Haworth residents Joanne and Darren Sutcliffe have taken over the reigns from their son in law and will continue to maintain the quality vibe of the original coffee house concept, serving up live music, a fully licensed bar, homemade cakes, light snacks, retro games & community events. Joanne enthusiastically tells us about the Barista's commitment to support other local businesses: "Our coffee is roasted up the road at Cloudgate Coffee and we also use Seasons Coffee based in Silsden; both are small batch coffee roasters. Our amazing cakes and cheesecakes are made by local 'Cheesecake Queen' Julie Dyson, and we are always looking for ways to support suppliers from the area."

When it comes to beer, the list is long and illustrious at Industry Barista, sourced from from Vocation Brewery, Hebden Bridge, SALT Brewery, Saltaire, Goose Eye Brewery, Wishbone Brewery both Keighley based, a couple of Yorkshire based breweries, Small World Brewery, Huddersfield and Abbeydale Brewery, Sheffield, to name just a few.

As previously mentioned, music and events are an important mix within the Barista's offer which includes Sunday Acoustic Sessions and on the last Wednesday of every month, a Spoken Word and Poetry Evening hosted by local lass, 'Bernie the Bolt' Poetress. Starting in November, a quiz evening will take place on the first Wednesday of every month. Look out for more details on Facebook and Google.

BEHIND THE SCENES AT THE MUSEUM

Mondays and Tuesdays, when we close to the public, are often just as busy as the rest of the week. We use these days to conduct private tours - exploring the Parsonage in the company of our Principal Curator is a very special treat for Brontë fans - but in recent months we have also welcomed a significant number of production crews making a wide range of content for film and tv. We are looking forward to The Return of the Railway Children and a new film about the life of Emily Brontë in the spring, but you can also look out for the Parsonage and some of its cast in programmes including The Brontës' Yorkshire with Mariella Frostrup, Escape to the Country and Our Great Yorkshire Life with Christa Ackroyd. The Brontës have long been a source of inspiration for the screen. Following the success of Wuthering Heights with Laurence Olivier and Merle Oberon in 1939, and Jane Eyre with Orson Welles and Joan Fontaine in 1943, studios decided to turn the cameras around and focus on the lives of the Brontës themselves. The result was Devotion, released in 1946. It is a romantic, sweeping bodice-ripper of a movie, in which Haworth is a village of half-timbered and thatched cottages, the Brontë girls wander on the moors in their nightgowns, Emily's fierce bull mastiff Keeper becomes an Old English sheepdog, and a love triangle is invented between Charlotte, Arthur Bell Nicholls, and Emily. Truth, fact and biography did not have starring roles! Seventy years later, in 2016, Sally Wainwright made her own Brontë biopic, To Walk Invisible. It was as down-to-earth gritty Yorkshire as Devotion was Hollywood glamour. Many readers of this magazine will remember how Haworth Main Street was 'dressed' with muck, slurry and snow, and the recreation of the Parsonage on Penistone Hill which, that spring, attracted almost as many visitors as the Museum! Parsonage staff were invited to the first cast read-through at Manchester's Granada Studios and were also offered a cameo appearance in the final scenes, something which was exciting to see for the first time at the Bafta press preview. We were reminded of that busy and exciting time just last week, when actor Luke Newberry, who starred in To Walk Invisible as Charlotte's publisher George Smith, visited the Museum. He signed our VIV (Very Important Visitors) book, adding his name to a list which includes Gemma Arterton, Colin Firth, Vanessa Redgrave and Joanna Lumley. Rebecca Yorke~ Brontë Parsonage Museum

A conversation between two nurses at Harrogate District Hospital led to individuals and businesses in Haworth raising money to purchase two hundred care packs for patients. Rita Verity from Sonia's Smile in Main Street was in the Intensive Care Unit after complications from surgery at Airedale Hospital. On a life support machine and unable to communicate, it was several days before she mentioned to the nurse that she'd overheard them talking about their fundraising and offered to help. Enlisting Pam Howorth from Oh La La who put out the request and organised the effort with Josie Price from The Weavers Guest House, £600 was quickly raised enabling Airedale and Harrogate to each receive one hundred packs. Visiting Haworth to collect the toiletries, representatives from both hospitals expressed their thanks and discussed other ideas for fundraising; a bed push up the street was mentioned! Both hospital charities provide many things not covered by the NHS and rely on public donations. Rita wanted to say thank you for the amazing care and dedicated staff and is grateful for everyone who contributed.

Sparkling Bradford Winter

It's a wonderful time of year to go exploring in Bradford and district. Take full advantage of these autumn winter activities and create some great seasonal memories.

Explore Bradford district parks and woodlands while taking in nature and the seasons. Judy Woods and St. Ives Estate in Bingley are two beautiful places to visit, with the crisp leaves underfoot and the trees at their vibrant coloured best. Experience some lovely weekends at NT East Riddlesden Hall, where the welcoming gardens and intimate house provide a haven at this busy time of year.

If you're looking for a dazzling season of live entertainment visit Bradford Theatres. Brilliant new musicals, top comedy and superb drama and of course the legendary Pantomime are among the highlights of the season. This year sees Billy Pearce joined by Dr Ranj in Sleeping Beauty, a theatre experience not to be missed! Christmas lights will illuminate our high streets from November, adding a little sparkle to your shopping days. Bradford's Christmas lights will be switched on with a flourish on Saturday 13th November. Twinkling lights, beautifully decorated festive shop windows and four weekends of festivities will take place around Haworth, beginning on 27th November with the magical Light Up Haworth weekend. With the festive season just around the corner events are returning, look out for the magical Saitaire Living Advent Calendar, lighting up windows across the village from 1st December, and a new interactive virtual trail in Ilkley, perfect for keeping the kids entertained as you explore the stylish shops and inviting eateries. As autumn turns to winter and you crave comfort foods, you'll find delicious and seasonal fare in the district's exciting restaurants and cafés. Whether it's a pumpkin-spice latte, a hearty stew, or a warm slice of gingerbread, there's something to please everyone. To create your home-made favourites, pick up fresh seasonal vegetables at the Farmers Markets in Bingley and Baildon, as well as at Real Food Ilkley, and prepare some tasty delights like a warm soup or a scrumptious cake.

Stay cosy and relax for a few hours on the comfortable settees of the independent Ilkley Cinema and watch a great film. Go to the National Science and Media Museum's IMAX or the Pictureville Cinema, the only remaining UK facility that can show 3-strip Cinerama, for a completely immersive movie experience.

Get creative at a variety of fun arts and craft workshops for beginners and confident makers. Visit Bingley's Craft House for weaving and stitching inspiration, Saitaire's People

Powered Press for large-scale letterpress works, Salt Pots and Cobbles and Clay for friendly family focused pottery painting sessions, or Mrs Duttons Wondrous Workshops in the heart of Ilkley to learn a new skill or polish an existing one.

Treacle®

One of the main things I have learnt from listening to attendees of the It's Worth Talking About peer support groups is that we must try to be kind to ourselves during the grieving process.

Grief is a unique, individual and unpredictable process. Whilst peer support and talking enables us to learn from others experiences, we must not compare our feelings and emotions to others. Person by person grief is different based on the context of its importance, and whilst being kind to ourselves is essential, it is not a prescription that will cure you. It is more of a mechanism to get you through what is often a lifelong process.

Many of people I've met struggled with being compassionate to themselves, often beating themselves up emotionally, mentally and sometimes physically because they've tried to 'be strong', hiding any emotion, refusing help, trying to 'move on' and not allowing sufficient time to adequately heal. Being able to accept the variety of emotions, ask for help and give yourself time are important parts of the self-care grieving process and yet so many people hold the typically British 'firm upper lip' and 'carry on regardless'.

Being kind to yourself, just doing what you can day by day is enough, you don't need to rush it and you don't need to forget the bereaved just because they are no longer here. Embrace them like they are if you need to, speak about them, even to them and remember the good and bad times. Most importantly do not be apologetic about how you deal with how a loss affects you because in the end it's yours and nobody else's.

Please do not suffer alone. Along with information on Its Worth Talking About, there are 14 different support services linked to bereavement on treacle.me, the local social prescribing resource created by Advanced Nurse Practitioner, Helen O'Connell.

Simply look under the bereavement arrow in the yellow section of the support wheel on the website. Treacle covers situations ranging from specific support for bereaved parents or children, to support for families after suicide or for people who are widowed at an early age.

If you need help, then be kind to yourself and try Treacle today.

Mac ~n~ Cheese please!

The ultimate comfort food!

Ingredients

100g/3½oz butter, plus extra for greasing
 100g/3½oz plain flour
 1 tsp Dijon mustard
 1.2 litres/2 pints full-fat milk
 75ml/2½fl oz double cream
 1 bay leaf
 400g/14oz mature cheddar, grated
 pinch freshly grated nutmeg
 500g/1lb 2oz dried macaroni
 100g/3½oz chopped smoked bacon or smoked pancetta cubes
 60g/2¼oz white breadcrumbs
 50g/1¾oz Parmesan, grated
 salt and freshly ground black pepper

Method

Preheat the oven to 200C/180C Fan/Gas 6 and grease a 35x20cm/14x8in ovenproof dish..

Melt the butter in a large saucepan over a low heat. Stir in the plain flour and cook for 1 minute. Add the mustard, take the pan off the heat and gradually whisk in the milk and cream. Add the bay leaf.

Put the pan back over the heat, stirring constantly, until it boils and thickens. Take the pan off the heat again, remove the bay leaf and add the cheddar. Stir until the cheese has melted. Season with lots of black pepper and some nutmeg.

Bring a large pan of salted water to the boil and stir in the macaroni. Cook for 10 minutes, or until al dente, drain well and add to the sauce.

Fry the bacon in a frying pan until crisp. Stir into the macaroni cheese and pour the mixture into the ovenproof dish.

Mix the breadcrumbs with the Parmesan and scatter over the top. Bake for 25–30 minutes, or until golden-brown and bubbling. Serve immediately.

LOFT LADDERS

Yorkshire Loft Ladders, Quality You Can Trust

These days most homeowners suffer from a lack of storage space. So many precious items that need to be kept - but where to store it all? That's where Yorkshire Loft Ladders come in. The company, based locally, offers homeowners the opportunity to maximise their storage space with a loft ladder, 50 sq ft of boarding and a light all fully fitted in less than a day from just £277 + VAT. But it's not just the affordability of the package the company offers that makes Yorkshire Loft Ladders stand out as manager Mark Hodson explains: 'Our watchwords are Quality, Integrity and Value. Quality in the materials that we use for all our installations and the fact that all our loft packages are fitted by time served tradesman so our customers are assured of the best job. Integrity in that we will turn up at the time we say and make sure the house is spotless when we leave, and Value in that we offer our services at a price people can afford. Our business relies on referrals and we get a huge amount of our calls from people who have been referred to us by our existing customers - that simply wouldn't happen if we didn't adhere to our overniding principles.

At the end of the day the old adage that happy customers lead to more happy customers is true and we work hard to make that happen for every installation we carry out!

So, if you want to make use of your loft space, however big or small, call Warren on 0800 612 8359 and he'll be happy to pop round and give you a no obligation quote so you too can make use of your loft.
